

Face shield

for droplet and sneeze protection

For you and those around you – extensive protection against droplet infections

Our Face shield made from high-quality APET not only protects you at close quarters, but is also suitable for a wide range of applications thanks to its high degree of wearing comfort and light weight of 90 gr. Thanks to its size, you are not restricted whatsoever in your everyday movements. Its curved shape around the forehead means it is also optimally suited for people who wear glasses.

The advantages over conventional everyday masks for mouth and nose protection are obvious:

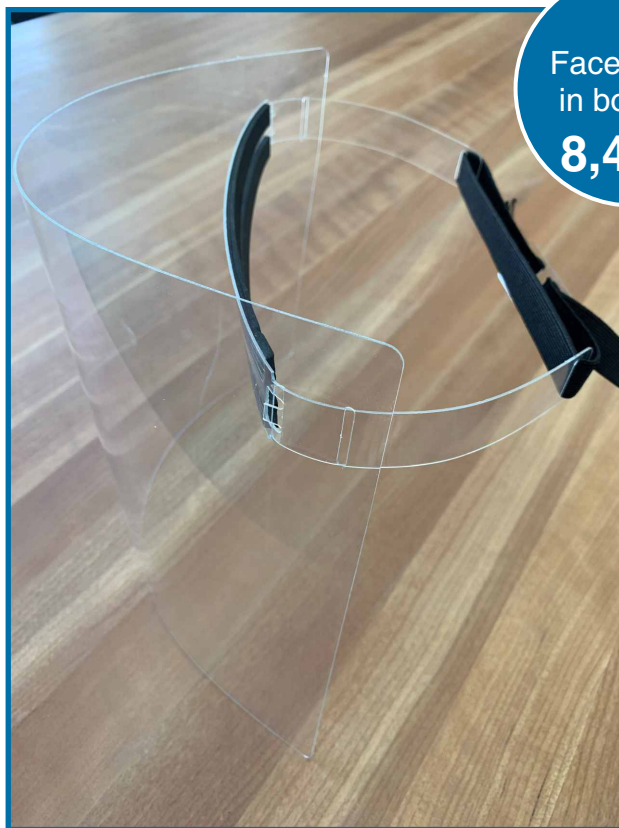

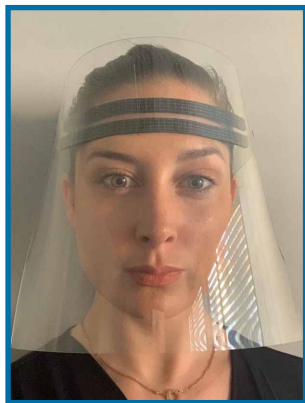

- Can be used several times, since it can be cleaned with a microfiber cloth and diluted detergent
- No pressure marks on the ears
- Size adjustable
- No annoying fogging up of glasses
- No soaked mask right at the nose and mouth
- No frontal droplet passage from inside or outside
- Not susceptible to excessive heating up
- Prevents direct contact with your face
- Protection against spitting
- Facial expressions and speech are not hidden or distorted

The product is not approved for road traffic and is not suitable for welding or grinding work.

The curvature of the Face shield can lead to visual irritation.

This Face shield is not a medical product.
